Baltimore, Nov. 9.—Latest returns from the State show that the Unionists have elected three out of five Congressmen, with the first district in doubt. The majority in the State will probably not fall below 5,000. On the home vote, there is a Union majority in the House. The Senate is Democratic. Swann, for Governor, runs ahead of the national ticket in some quarters. The Baltimore city official Union majority is Dorchester county gives McClellan 500 majority; Union gain, 537

NEW YORK. New York, Nov. 9.—In this city nearly all the county officers elected are Democratic. Kelly, Democrat, is elected sheriff, and Oakey Hall district attorney.

ALBANY, Nov. 9.—The Journal claims the State by about 5,000 Republican majority. Returns, however, it says, are very scattering, and do not justify a positive estimate. The Argus claims that the Democratic ticket is elected in the State. BUFFALO, Nov. 9 .- The Courier furnishes the following:-Buffalo, complete, gives McClellan 483 majority.

ALBANY, Nov. 9, p. m .- At the Journal office the State is still claimed by the Union ticket by at least 5,000 majority. The Argus (Democrat) claims the State for the Democracy by 1,500 or 2,000 majority. The Unionists will have about 25 majority in the Assembly.

terior, that the news to-day, though in favor of the Union party, does not materially alter the previous calculations. The Age still considers the State as doubtful on the home vote. The North American thinks there is no doubt that the State has gone Union, but does not specify the majority. NEW JERSEY. -New Jersey give McClellan about 5.500 majority.

On a joint ballot in the Legislature, the Democrats will have a small majority, thus securing a United States Senator to succeed Mr Ten Eyck, Union. The Unionists gain 9,000 votes in the State over 1862.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 8.—Cincinnati gives 5,000 majority for Lincoln. Ohio, 80,000. There are Union gains throughout the State.

A decided improvement in the condition and appearance of these ten sincols is already to be seen, and much credit is due to Mr. McCathron, the principal, and the teachers associated with him, for the ability and labor which they have so far brought to bear upon the new organization—a much more difficult teak than is generally supposed. If any person at all familiar with the condition of these ten schools, as they were formerly kept in their isolated rooms, entertain doubts of the great advantage of their present arrangement under one roof, they need only visit this building to be convinced of their error. The style of architecture is well adapted to the location, and, for generations to come, its symmetrical and beautiful proportions will attract the notice and command the admiration of the thousands who annually visit this metropolis.

It probably would not be available to in seed

It probably would not be expedient or in good taste to repeat its exact exterior form, or interior adjustment in another ward, for the conditions of the former are largely dependent upon the location, and the latter can undoubtedly be improved.

The want of any suitable play-room in inclement weather, and the limited apartments for the janitor, are already felt as serious evils; but fortunately there is abundance of ground in the rear of the building, upon which the needed additional room can be provided.

In erecting another, the basement story should be made to extend under the entire building, and some, at least, of the rooms should be of a larger size. The desire to altogether separate the two sexes led to the construction of partitions, which, to some extent, struction of partitions, which, to some extent, mar the beauty of the interior, and interfere with the convenience of the cloak-rooms, and of the persons supervising the schools. It is believed by the committee that sufficient exclusiveness might be obtained through the discipline of the schools, if some of the partition walls were dispensed with. The occupancy of this building has enabled the sub-board of the district to relinquish a number of the pre-emi-nently wretched rooms in which schools had heretofore been kept, and it is sincerely to be hoped that dire necessity may never require a resort to them again. In the POURTH DISTRICT, but little change has been made. The frame building on 12th street west, south of Maryland avenue, has been completed, and a primary and secondary school, with their full complement of scholars, and many waiting admission, are now in possession of it. The large central lot of ground, located at the southeast corner of D street south and 6th street west, now owned by the Corporation. and, by common consent, set apart for the exclusive use of the public schools of the Seventh Ward, is a good guaranty of the future prosperity of this district.

solution of Parliament.

The news is unimportant.

The number of grammar schools now in this city is 8; intermediate, 8; secondary, 27; primary, 20-total, 63.

The number of pupils that can be taught in these schools is 3,780. The number of new schools organized during last year was six. The number of pupils that can be taught in them is 360.

There are two secondary and three primary schools now authorized by law, but not organized for want of rooms. The amount now paid per annum for rent of school-rooms in this city is as follows: First District, $1,410; Second do., $1,600; Third do., $670; Fourth do., $590—total, $4,260. The proper ventilation of school-rooms cannot receive too much attention from school officers and teachers. The best materials for a good school may be impaired or spoiled by bad ventilation. The committee, therefore, feel at liberty to report their recommendation of last year, that, in constructing all new rooms, whether of a permanent or temporary character, care should be taken that the ceilings are sufficiently high, at least twelve feet, and that the windows are hung with weights, so as to be easily lowered from the top. In one of the schoolrooms visited, an improved mode of heating and ventilating was observed. A very neat furnace of a moderate size was located in one corner of the room, which furnished ample heat for the coldest weather, although the room was of unusually large dimensions. A constant current of fresh air from without passed through an aperture in the floor, directly underneath the furnace, around its cylinder, and thus becoming heated was diffused thoughout

The superiority of this mode of heating over the ordinary mode, from a common stove, is apparent to every one, and it should be adopted whenever it is practicable. The committee was pleased to notice that considerable improvement had been made in school furniture. In accordance with their recommendation in their last report, the very uncomfortable and inconvenient primary arm chair had disappeared in several schools, and the admirable Boston primary desk and chair had taken its place.

They also noticed the introduction of a new style of furniture, patented by W. P. Whlinger, in some of the school-rooms, which appeared to have some advantages over the pre-vailing style, and to be more economical in construction. It seems to have given much satisfaction in the schools where it was used. and it is evidently wortny attention on the part of the board, as the cost of furniture is quite a large item in our annual expenditures, last year amounting to about five thousand dollars. It will be well to have some committee specially charged with the duty of examining and purchasing all that may be required.

The subject of blackboards also received their attention. They found a great variety in quality and quantity in the different rooms they visited, and they are unable to make any specific recommendations in relation to this subject other than that care should be taken that every school room is supplied with some sort. The "Eureka Liquid Slating" was used to some extent last year in repairing old blackboards and in making new ones, on various substances, such as oil-cloth, zinc, the ordinary boards and the plaster wall. It has been found not expensive, and to furnish a good surface. The experiments now making in the different districts will be likely to lead to some definite conclusions as to the best and cheapest mode providing this indispensible requisite of every school-room. Your committee cannot conclude their report without expressing their great gratification at the decided progress they found to have been made during the last year in the department of the public school system of this city, which it was their duty to inspect. Respectfully submitted. J. O. WILSON. The report was accepted.

Mr. Hitz, from the Third District, wished to know if children were allowed to eat their lunches in their study rooms, and thereby dirty and grease the floors and furniture; also, wished to know if it was proper that the teacher should shut up the school-room at noon, while away at dinner. Mr. Wight thought the teacher should either stay there or appoint a monitor during an absence.

Mr. Hitz moved that the committee on rules and regulations be instructed to request teachers to remain at the school-room at noon. Adopted Mr Wilson presented a bill for printing, from Messrs. Murtagh & Co.; which was ordered to be paid.

Mr. Tustin moved that the committee on rules and regulations be instructed to ascertain if the old custom is still observed of raiding a portion of Scripture on opening the schools. The Board then adjourned.

LEVY COURT.—The Levy Court of Washington county met Monday morning in the Aldermen's chamber, City Hall. Among other business a communication was received from Wm. Thompson, Justice of the peace, asking that an ordinance be passed to prevent rioting and disorderly conduct in the county, there being no law at present to meet offenses of this description when committed in the county. Referred to Mr. Utermehle, the attorney of the court, with instructions to prepare an ordinance in accordance with the communication. Several applications were received for tavern licenses in different parts of the county, and referred.

The election to fill vacancies in the Board of School Commissioners was postponed until the next meeting. Mr. Brown called the attention of the Court to the fact that the proportion of the amount due by the city of Washington to the Court for repairing roads leading into the city had not been paid, and he suggested that the Attorney of the Court be directed to apply for a writ of mandamus to compel the Mayor to pay the school.

The City Councils have, however, made an appropriation, designed for their relief, and it is expected that a new building will be erected. into which one of these schools can be removed within a short time. The building committee, constituted by authority of the City Councils, have recently purchased a lot for a large new building at the southwest corner of K street north and 14th street west. It has one front of 104 feet 8 inches on K street, and another of 142 feet 8 inches on Franklin Square with a 30 foot wide alley in the rear. The location is a very central one, in the Second Ward, elevated and healthy, and the advantages of light, abundance of water, drainage and sewerage, and dry basement rooms for a janitor, play-rooms in inclement weather, and store-rooms, at a very moderate expense, are unsurpassed. Had the whole ward been placed at the disposal of the committee charged with the selection, a more eligible site for the purpose could not have been selected. In the SECOND DISTRICT, We regret to state that no material improvement has been made. The negotiations for the church property on E street, between 6th and 7th streets, and the arrangements for the extension of the "Berrett School House," corner of New York avenue and 6th street, failed, from no want, however, of diligent effort on the part of the trustees of the district.

The latter improvement appears to the committee to be a very desirable one, demanding the first efforts of the sub-board.

The lot owned by the Corporation is well located, and of sufficient size. The building now upon it is a handsome edifice, furnishing three good rooms, and the contemplated enthree good rooms, and the contemplated en-largement so as to accommodate three or mora additional schools, would, we are satisfied, improve the appearance of the present struc-ture, and in no respect diminish its conve-niences. The dense and rapidly-increasing population in that section of the city can be supplied with the school privileges which they so urgently demand at this time in no other way so convenient and economical. In the THIRD DISTRICT, HARTFORD, Nov. 9.—Connecticut returns are omplete, except from two towns. The State ives Lincoln 2,541 majority.

The large building, containing ten school-rooms, and accommodating six hundred pupils, has been completed, and is already in successful operation. Immediately upon its opening it was filled to overflowing, and had it been New York, Apply to P. J. Billill.
